

STOCKTON COLLEGE

THE RICHARD STOCKTON COLLEGE OF NEW JERSEY

Corzine, Christie Locked in “Nail Biter”

Stockton College/Zogby International Survey Shows Corzine
With One Point Lead; Daggett Could Tip Scales

For Immediate Release

Friday October 30, 2009

Contact: Tim Kelly
Office of Public Relations
Galloway Township, NJ 08240
Tim.Kelly@stockton.edu
(609) 652-4950

Galloway Twp, NJ - A poll of 1,093 likely New Jersey voters finds incumbent Democratic Governor Jon Corzine leading Republican challenger Chris Christie by one percentage point (40% to 39%) headed into next Tuesday's general election.

Support for independent challenger Chris Daggett sits at 14%. Daggett has strong support among independent and unaffiliated voters (23%), but is also pulling support from the left (13% among Democrats) and the right (8% among Republicans).

	Overall	DEM (42%)	REP (51%)	Indep (7%)
				11%
Chris Christie	39%	10%	39%	77%
Chris Daggett	14%	13%	23%	8%
Someone Else	1%	1%	2%	Less than 1%
Undecided	6%	5%	10%	4%

*Includes Independent and Unaffiliated voters. Party ID based on self identification.

-more -

Stockton Poll Predicting “Nail Biter”/page 2

Both Corzine and Christie's bases are holding strong with Corzine's support among Democrats at 71%, yet low for an incumbent; while Christie's Republican support is slightly higher at 77%. The survey showed that likely voters who are

