Galloway Township, NJ- Couples will play "The Newlywed Game," an American dating game show that first aired in the 1960s, at Kramer Hall for Hammonton's February Third Thursday.

Participants do not have to be newlyweds to attempt to match their partners' answers to a series of questions, revealing how well they know each other. "That's Amore' (the Italian word for love)," is the theme of the evening. The event will take place Thursday, Feb. 20, 2014 from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. in the Kramer Hall Art Gallery, located at 30 Front St. in Hammonton. Dr. Michael Hozik, professor of Geology at Stockton and a Hammonton resident, will serve as the master of ceremonies.

"Come enjoy some fun and good laughs as couples attempt to match their answers in the style of the classic television game show. Volunteer with your partner and be a part of this exciting event. That's Amore'," said Nancy Fiedler, a professional services specialist at Kramer Hall.

Kramer Hall will also offer "The Wheel of Education Game," a blood pressure check and heart healthy information session by Rose Marie McCarthy, RN, of The Heart Institute at AtlantiCare Regional Medical Center. The Wheel of Education Game will run from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m.
