Galloway Township, NJ- The Writing Program at The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey recently announced that two Stockton undergraduates majoring in literature won Mimi Schwartz writing awards.

Linda Dilworth-Diego, a resident of Egg Harbor Township, was awarded the Mimi Schwartz Creative Nonfiction Award for her piece titled "La Moreneta," a powerful meditation on how a summer in Spain led her to reassess her identity as an African American woman. Brigid Sadorf, a resident of Cape May Court House, was awarded honorable mention for her piece titled "Triangulation," a tale of the friendship between three young people set in Las Vegas in the 1990s.

On Thursday, April 29, 2010, Linda Dilworth -Diego will read her award-winning essay at Stockton's Writing Program Showcase from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. in the Townsend Residential Life Center (TRLC). The Writing Program Showcase is an annual event that features the talented students enrolled in Stockton's advanced Writing Program courses.

Dickerson said about Sadorf's writing, "I especially like the dialogue and the skill with which the author allows the characters to reveal themselves through their actions."
