

S

Benefit 00
one
By Marine
Station Rece
Traps
Dr. Le me Fu sol
Atlantic Co
atism Draws Ren Fourth Year pens Woodbine
al Site Anne Azeez

Dr. Marissa Levy, associate professor of Criminal Justice, will undergo training to become the Fusion Liaison Officer (FLO) for Atlantic County under the purview of the New Jersey Regional Operations and Intelligence Center (ROIC).

Fusion Liaison Officers are part of an in

The college's first Cape May County instructional site was formally opened on Monday, April 29 with a ribbon-cutting ceremony at the Anne Azeez Hall in Woodbine.

Anne Azeez Hall is a $600,000 addition to the Sam Azeez Museum of Woodbine Heritage of Stockton, located at 610 Washington Ave. The 2,800-square-foot facility includes two state-of-the-art, electronic classrooms, one of which holds 20-25 students and instructor; the other holds 35. When the dividing wall is open between the two, the multipurpose space can accommodate groups of 55 to 60.

The Hall is adjacent to the historic Sam Azeez Museum of Woodbine Heritage, named in honor of Anne's beloved husband. Sam and Anne's son, Michael, president of Unitel Wireless, donated $5 million including the original museum property to Stockton in September 2011, the largest gift in Stockton's history.

"With the addition of the classrooms, I hope that students in Cape May County will take advantage of the educational opportunities offered here in Woodbine," Anne Azeez said.

Current programs scheduled for Anne Azeez Hall include professional development workshops for K-12 educators hosted by the college's Southern Regional Institute and ETTC. Undergraduate and graduate courses will also be scheduled at the facility during the summer and fall.

More than 200 attended the ceremonies and reception, including Stockton faculty and staff, representatives of the state, Cape May County and Woodbine, as well as people whose families were among the original settlers of Woodbine. A full press release is available here, with additional photos available on Flickr.

Send Us Your News!

We want to know about things going on in the Stockton community. Do you have an unusual hobby? Did one of your co-workers win an award or perform outstanding public service? Births, weddings, graduations and the like are all good things to submit to the Stockton Times.

Contact the editor at (609) 652-4593 or e-mail StocktonTimes@stockton.edu.

STOCKTON
