

The Stockton

THE RICHARD STOCKTON COLLEGE OF NEW JERSEY

Volume 3, Issue 1
September 5, 2013

Special points of interest:

- CBFS to Honor Founders of Africana Studies for 30th Anniversary
- Introducing New Faculty: Schools of Health Sciences, Education
- Dr. Busler Presents at Sustainable Development Conference
- New Health Sciences Faculty Embark on New Projects, Proposals
- Michael Pedicin To Release Latest CD, "Why Stop Now... Ubuntu"
- Beverly Vaughn's Cousin Representing Ohio in Miss America Pageant

Excitingly, four new faculty members are joining the Stockton community this fall. Over the coming weeks, The Times will feature brief bios of our new faculty, by school. Welcome!

Dr. Debra Busacco

Dr. Michael Busler, associate professor of Business Studies, presented two papers at the World Association for Sustainable Development (WASD) annual conference at the London

Beverly Vaughn, professor of Music, has a personal connection to the 2014 Miss America Pageant: her cousin Heather Wells, 23, perhaps better known as Miss Ohio, will be gracing the stage at Boardwalk Hall.

"Heather's mother, Andrea Wells is my first cousin," Vaughn said of her relation to Wells. "Heather's grandmother, Doris Watkins and my mother, Marion Vaughn, are sisters."

The scholarship pageant is making its return to Atlantic City after being held in Las Vegas since 2006. Wells' talent is lyrical dance, and her platform is divorce recovery for youth.

"My cousin Beverly has inspired me to believe that the sky is the limit. At an early age she inspired

Send Us Your News!

We want to know about things going on in the Stockton community. Do you have an unusual hobby? Did one of your co-workers win an award or perform outstanding public service? Births, weddings, graduations and the like are all good things to submit to the Stockton Times.

Contact the editor at (609) 652-4593 or e-mail StocktonTimes@stockton.edu.